(J Med Internet Res 2021;23(4):e29452) doi: 10.2196/29452

In “Spelling Errors and Shouting Capitalization Lead to Additive Penalties to Trustworthiness of Online Health Information: Randomized Experiment With Laypersons” (J Med Internet Res 2020;22(6):e15171) one error was noted after publication.

One reviewer of this paper, L Sbaffi, was listed twice in the originally published paper due to a system error. The duplicate instance of the reviewer’s name has been removed from the corrected version.

The correction will appear in the online version of the paper on the JMIR Publications website on April 13, 2021, together with the publication of this correction notice. Because this was made after submission to PubMed, PubMed Central, and other full-text repositories, the corrected article has also been resubmitted to those repositories.

This is a non-peer-reviewed article. Submitted 07.04.21; accepted 07.04.21; published 13.04.21.
